AMENDED
Mines Engineer- Safety Inspector, Iqaluit

N 18/58 NU

The Workers' Safety and Compensation Commission's (WSCC) vision is to eliminate workplace diseases and injuries. Our mission is to promote workplace health and safety while providing no fault insurance to employers and care for injured workers. Our values are respect, engagement, integrity, openness, cultural safety, excellence and stewardship in the workplace.

The Mines Engineer-Safety Inspector provides services to employers, workers, and the public related to industries identified within the Nunavut (NU) and the Northwest Territories (NT) Mine Health and Safety Acts, Explosives Use Act, Safety Acts and the associated Regulations.

Through education, collaboration and enforcement this position assists stakeholders in achieving compliance with the Acts & Regs under the direction of the Chief Inspector/Safety Officer NT/NU. This position reviews, approves or makes recommendations for the mineral industry, explosives use, mine design parameters and emergency response programs.

We require an Engineering degree in a relevant discipline; preferably mining, from an accredited university, must be registered or be eligible for registration as a Professional Engineer in the NT and NU and a minimum of 5 years of experience in the mining/exploration industry. We considered the following as asset: Demonstrated Occupational Health and Safety experience, Canadian Registered Safety Professional, OHS Certificate or diploma. A valid class 5 driver's license is also required. Equivalent combinations of education and experience will be considered.

The salary ranges from $49.02 to $58.53 hourly (approx. $95,589 to $114,133.50 yearly), plus a Northern Allowance of $18,533 yearly.

A satisfactory criminal records check is required for this position.
