Occupational Health & Safety Inspector Trainee (2 Year Term), Yellowknife N 20/12NT

Are you looking for a career in the occupational health and safety field? Do you enjoy on the job training? Do you have a passion for safety? We have just the position for you!

The OHS Inspector Trainee supports the administration and enforcement of the Northwest Territories and Nunavut Safety Acts and OHS Regulations and fosters the vision, mission and values of the Workers' Safety and Compensation Commission.

This position is a training and development opportunity that with the successful completion of education and on the job training will qualify the candidate to meet the screening criteria for an Occupational Health and Safety (OHS) Inspector position as appointed in the Safety Act for the Northwest Territories and Nunavut. This development opportunity is directed at Indigenous Aboriginal persons, who can bridge the Northwest Territories way of life (lived experience) and increase stakeholder engagement in the area of OHS. This position will also provide insight and advice on the intricacies of the diverse communities within NT and NU.

The position requires a Grade 12 diploma and a minimum of 3 years field work experience. Trades certificate or mining experience would be an asset. Experience working with legislation or regulatory standards, is considered an asset. A valid class 5 driver's license is also required, or ability to obtain within 6 months. The ability to communicate in an aboriginal language to the NWT is preferred. Candidates must have a strong interest to learn about occupational health and safety, including legislation, safety management systems (SMS), internal responsibility systems (IRS) and willing to assist in conducting inspections & investigations. We will consider equivalent combinations of education and experience when determining progressive experience on a case by case basis.

Salary ranges from $40.51 to $48.38 hourly ($78,994.50 to $94,341 plus a yearly) plus a yearly Northern Allowance of $3,700.

A satisfactory criminal records check is required for this position.
